Organic food creation and consumption is a personal passion. Having first started cooking and eating a natural food, largely vegetarian diet in a special college nutrition program over 40 years ago, I have since had many years of experience in the Food & Hospitality industry including ownership, purchasing, sales, management, cooking & teaching. Worked positions from ownership and head chef to chief bottle washer, manufacturing food products and foodservice equipment to being a corporate chef. I have sold my own natural food products to Tree of Life and Publix markets, written millions of dollars of purchase orders, shopped regional produce markets, supplied kitchen equipment packages for many Outback Steakhouses & Kenny Rogers Roasters Handled purchase orders, small wares and complete Kitchen Equipment packages. Capable of working with internal and external clients, multiple projects, vendors and experienced with MS Office and a variety of other software programs. Currently operates Cuisine au Naturel, a local organic, sodium-free seasoning producer.
